

Arkansas Bluegrass Festivals

At least one of the birth places of bluegrass is the Ozark Mountains, thus it's fitting that Arkansas has a slew of annual bluegrass festivals from which to choose!

For general information, go to <http://www.bluegrassfestivalguide.com/ar.htm>

Turkey Track Fall Bluegrass Festival

location: Waldron, Arkansas
June & October

Located in the beautiful Ouachita Mountains near Waldron, Arkansas, Turkey Track Bluegrass Park is one of the largest bluegrass festivals west of the Mississippi. Bring the whole family and enjoy wholesome family entertainment!

There are two festivals each year (June and October). Scheduled performances are held Wednesday through Saturday of each festival.

Eureka Springs Bluegrass Festival

location: Eureka Springs, Arkansas
August

The Auditorium on Main Street in Eureka Springs, Arkansas is where many major shows and events are held each year. The auditorium stays busy with the bustling arts community in Eureka Springs. Since the early 19th century, the town has been a destination for artists and today is home to over 200 working artists and more than 20 art galleries.

Don't miss the Ozark Folk Festival held there each year in the fall when Ozarks artists, musicians, and craftspeople converge on Eureka Springs.

Eureka Springs Bluegrass Festival in Eureka Springs, Ar 1-800-987-6298

Mountain View Bluegrass Festival-spring

March

location: Mountain View, AR

Mountain View Bluegrass Festival - fall

November

Mountain View, Arkansas

As always, the event will be hosted at the Ozark Folk Center Auditorium & Grounds in Mountain View, Arkansas.

Rain Or Shine!

There is No reserved seating and advanced ticket purchase is recommended due to regular sell out performances!

Hope-Hempstead Bluegrass Festival

February, May and November

location: Hope, Arkansas

The Hope/Hempstead County Chamber of Commerce has three Bluegrass events each year. All three are free events and feature national, regional, and local Bluegrass acts. The winter Bluegrass show is held in February. The Bluegrass Festival is generally Mother's Day week-end in May, and the fall show is in November.